Discover This Month

Angels Gate Cultural Center

San Pedro loves the arts and artists. They also love to see their heritage and history preserved. You'll find both at Angels Gate Cultural Center. It's housed in vintage buildings that were formerly a part of Ft. MacArthur, an Army coastal defense base. After the base's upper reservation was turned over to the City of Los Angeles, Angels Gate Park was created. And in that park is the Cultural Center, a set of studios, workshops, galleries, and performance spaces that support artists and their work. There's always an outstanding exhibition, workshops, and performance art going on. This month, on Saturday, August 4 is the opening of Stone's Throw from the Water, an exhibition that runs through September 15. And on Saturday, August 18 is Phogust, a presentation of bent, broken, and appropriated sounds for the discerning listener.

Angels Gate Cultural Center is at 3600 S. Gaffey Street.

Nightlife

Jazz, jazz, and more jazz at The Whale & Ale, 327 W. 7th Street. On Friday nights you can hear The Paul Gormley Trio, a world-class group of musicians who play traditional jazz that you'll love. And on Saturday nights, Markus Carlton plays beautiful jazz guitar in the pub. www.WholeAndAle.com.

There's music six nights a week at The Admiral Risty on the beautiful Palos Verdes Peninsula. Some of the area's favorite musicians play to accompany the award-winning cuisine of this legendary restaurant that's been serving up memories for more than 50 years. In the relaxed Seaside Lounge. The Admiral Risty is located at 31250 Palos Verdes Drive West, Peninsula. 310-377-0050, www.AdmiralRisty.com.

If you want a real San Pedro experience, definitely make it a point to visit God-mother's Saloon at 301 W. 7th Street, on the corner of Centre Street, Downtown. This old-school bar is known for its great selection of beers. And many nights and every week-end you'll find some great musical talent performing hard charging rock 'n' roll, rockabilly, and a whole lot more. Friendly people, friendly place. Give it a try and you'll be back.

Dining

Rise & Shine (or breakfast all day)

San Pedro Cafe, at 605 S. Pacific Avenue, is well-known (and well-loved). Big portions expertly prepared. Always cage-free eggs and other fresh ingredients. It's right in the middle of Uptown Pacific Avenue and it's well worth a visit.

Gaffey Street Diner at 247 N. Gaffey Street is right off the freeway and easy to get to. You can count on longshoreman-size portions, fresh ingredients, and the long-time menu favorites—just with some additional enticements and a renewed commitment to great customer service.

The Grinder has been a tradition for 40 years--and it just keeps getting better. Great breakfasts, lunch, dinner. Right on the Waterfront at 511 S. Harbor Blvd. Check its website at www.GrinderRestaurants.com for coupons.

It's not possible to find a better breakfast served all day than at Happy Diner (1 & 2). They've got all your favorite traditional choices and Mexican specialties, too. Everything is prepared with care and love at this family-owned business. Happy Diner, 617 S. Centre Street, Downtown; Happy Diner 2, 1931 N. Gaffey Street, NW San Pedro. # Art Is All Around

San Pedro & the Peninsula

What does a thriving arts community look like? It looks a lot like San Pedro, the Palos Verdes Peninsula, and Catalina Island.

The region has long been a favorite place for artists. And today it's home to galleries, studios, artists' collectives, and other places where art is created, enjoyed, and appreciated, with plenty of events that let the public get up close with art and the artists who create it.

For 82 years now, the San Pedro Art Association has been the standard bearer for local artists.

Its large gallery space at CRAFTED at the Port of Los Angeles is home base for a range of artists. And through this month it's also hosting the Harbor Wide All Grades Student Art Competition and Exhibition, where you can see outstanding works from area students.

The association also has a group exhibition every Friday at the Downtown San Pedro Farmers Market on 6th Street between Pacific Avenue and Mesa Street. And on the First Thursday of every month, its members regularly show their art at the Crowne Plaza Hotel, 601 S. Palos Verdes Street, Downtown.

Drop by and see the member artists at any of their exhibitions. They love to discuss their work.

The San Pedro Waterfront Arts District is proof that the area is a great center for the arts. It's been designated as one of 14 Cultural Districts in the state of California. And there's only one other in all of Los Angeles. A Cultural District, as outlined by the program, is a well-defined geographic area with a high concentration of cultural resources and activities.

Downtown San Pedro and its immediate surroundings are home to more than 90 visual artists, as well as restaurants, performing arts venues, and art galleries.

The San Pedro Waterfront Arts District has led the way in making art more accessible by sponsoring public art projects. Currently there are 17 artist-painted city Department of Transportation utility boxes (pictured above), three large scale murals, and a vinyl mural on the side of a local sign company's building.

And it has plans for eight more utility boxes, along with two more wall murals. In the fall of 2018, the Arts District will be adding public art to a new fast food restaurant site on Gaffey Street.

Also coming up this fall, the Arts District will present renowned art scholar Gregorio Luke and Quatro@Cabrillo: Arts Adventures for the Culturally Curious Celebrating the Arts of Mexico. The event will be held Sunday, September 16 beginning at 2 p.m. at Cabrillo Marine Aquarium. And three film presentations will follow in the series next year: Gravity (January 27), Birdman (March 24), and The Shape of Water (May 19).

Art Is All Around...

San Pedro City Ballet may be best known as the school where American Ballet Theatre principal dancer Misty Copeland got her start.

The company performs The Nutcracker annually at the Warner Grand Theatre, as well as produces original modern works for a variety of venues throughout Southern California. In addition, San Pedro City Ballet, through its outreach programs, holds performance workshops throughout the city of Los Angeles. Thousands of residents see the company perform each year.

Our Creations is a place that helps others be creative. It offers arts and craft supplies, as well as everything needed to create wedding, quinceañera, and other special occasion décor. And it has outstanding painting classes.

San Pedro is home to world-class art.

And you'll find them at Parkhurst Galleries.

Parkhurst features exhibitions by world-class artists and its Painting with the Masters instructional program helps everyone from beginners to master artists develop their styles and techniques, culminating with an exhibition at the end of each program.

The gallery was founded in 1947 by artist Violet Parkhurst.

And Violet Parkhurst originals can be purchased at the Parkhurst Gallery, along with a range of other great artists' works.

Parkhurst Galleries also offers oil painting classes, custom framing, fine art restoration, and appraisal services.

With all the arts going on around town, you'll want to keep up with what's new and current. About the best way to do this is by reading Random Lengths News. Whether you're looking for visual or performing arts, Random Lengths always has extensive coverage on what's hot.

It's the only locally-produced newspaper, coming out every other Thursday. You can find it at more than 300 locations around the area.

And building on its growing reputation as an important center of the arts, San Pedro hosts the National Watercolor Society and its gallery. The gallery is open during the First Thursday Art Walk each month and has additional hours during special shows, including its National Exhibition in November and December each year.

NWS was founded in 1920 and opened its gallery in Uptown Pacific Avenue in 2010.

You'll find the work of the best watercolor painters in the world—and you won't believe some of these paintings are watercolors with their vivid detail and vibrant colors.

If you want to see a lot of high quality arts and crafts, CRAFTED at the Port of Los Angeles is the place to go.

It's home to the San Pedro Art Association gallery along with vendors ranging from craft foods, jewelry, textiles, cosmetics, and home décor.
